

DIVORCE FROM M'ALLISTER.

She That Was Jennie Garmy Wary of Wedlock.

Her Reported Arrangement for Separation from Ward's Son.

The marital difficulties existing between Ward McAllister's son, Howard Hall McAllister, and his young wife, Jennie Garmy, have again become before the public, and at this time there are indications that divorce proceedings will be instituted by the wife.

The announcement in the papers last May of the marriage of young McAllister to Miss Jennie Garmy, of Savannah, Ga., caused a great deal of gossip in society circles. It came out at the time that the pair had been secretly married since 1884 and that a second ceremony had been performed Aug. 22, 1887.

Both ceremonies had been kept secret until the young husband could no longer endure the torture of mind occasioned in him by the fact that they were not married in the usual manner, and there it rested until the time when the young wife decided to sue for divorce on the ground of non-support.

Mr. McAllister has retained Theophilus H. Steele, a lawyer, and could no longer endure the torture of mind occasioned in him by the fact that they were not married in the usual manner, and there it rested until the time when the young wife decided to sue for divorce on the ground of non-support.

The conference was held in the office of Mayor Hovey. The particulars could not be learned, but it is understood that an amicable arrangement was entered into by which the separation could be effected without the usual publicity attendant on the trial in court of a divorce suit.

Mr. Gallup would not enter into details with regard to the EVENING WORLD reporter to-day, but verified the statement that the conference had been held, at which the principal parties were present.

After the meeting, Mr. McAllister, his mother, Mrs. McAllister, Mr. Steele, Mr. McAlpin, of Richmond, Va., and Mr. Gallup returned to New York by boat.

Lawyer Steele did not come to his office to-day, and no clue to his whereabouts could be found. It is not known whether or not Mr. McAllister is still in New York.

HER CARGO OF ANIMALS.

The White Star Steamship Brings an Interesting Load.

The White Star freight steamship Tauris, which arrived this morning from Liverpool, had an interesting cargo of animals.

There were two cub leopards, three hyenas and twenty-six monkeys, consigned to William E. Conkling, ex-superintendent of Central Park menagerie.

Nineteen blooded mares and five foals came for J. E. Widener, the well-known breeder, of Philadelphia.

Six hackney stallions and four shire stallions were consigned to G. W. Truman, of Houshelt, Ill.; two mares and two stallions to Hugh Arnold, and a thoroughbred pony to W. A. Peck, of Providence, R. I.

Two hounds and a pointer, and a consignment of thirty valuable pigeons came for the lady breeder, Mrs. C. H. Peck, of New York.

All the animals made the voyage well and suffered no damage.

JAMES F. LYONS'S TRIAL.

Now Set Down for the First Monday
In October.

James F. Lyons, who was indicted with Michael Stiney for the murder of Roy Lyons, was brought before Justice Ingraham, in the court of Oyer and Terminer this morning, on a writ of habeas corpus.

His counsel, William J. Howe, stated that his client wanted one of three things—to be discharged, to be admitted to bail, or to be tried at once.

Justice Ingraham said that Lyons was entitled to a trial within a reasonable time, but that to discharge him or admit him to bail when charged with murder in the first degree was impossible.

The District Attorney promised to bring the case to trial during the next term, and it was set down for the first Monday in that month.

MAY TIE UP GOULD'S WIRES.

Higher Wages Demanded by Telegraphers and Train Despatchers.

Mr. Louis, Sept. 20.—The telegraphers of the Missouri Pacific system yesterday made a demand for a higher wage scale. The recognition of the right of railway telegraphers was also asked.

Male and female, young and old commercial operators and train despatchers are among the 1,400 employees interested. A strike would block traffic and entail an incalculable loss to shippers and consignees in all parts of country.

The railway officials refuse to be interviewed.

RAILROADS HAVE NO APPEAL.

Their Property May Be Annexed
First by State Commissioners.

Indianapolis, Sept. 20.—A Circuit Court Judge Brown held a new Tax law, which was impeached by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, constitutional.

The question was on the right of original assessment of railroad property by the State Tax Commissioners, when in other classes of property the owners go first to the County Board of Review and then appeal.

The railroads and telegraph have no such appeal.

EXTENDED TWO DAYS.

Ludwig Baumann & Co.'s Opening
A Great Success.

The fall opening of Ludwig Baumann & Co. at their big store on Eighth avenue, near Thirty-sixth street, is such a success that it has been extended for two more days—today and to-morrow—during which time every lady who visits the store will receive a handsome souvenir in the way of beautifully colored handkerchiefs, handkerchiefs and dainty after-dinner cups and saucers.

Moreover, Baumann & Co. are offering a larger and more attractive variety of furniture and household furnishings goods than ever this fall, and now is the time to inspect and select.

The great sale rooms were crowded this morning, and the clerks and attendants were kept busy attending to the wants of the throng. One of the novelties which the firm has introduced this year is the Froelich folding-bed, which is meeting with the greatest possible success.

The firm sells its goods on the time-payment principle and the amount of the installment is always made to suit the purse of the purchaser. By this arrangement the furnishing of a house or flat is brought within the means of every customer.

STODDARD FELL FROM A ROOF.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Robert Stoddard, a plasterer, aged sixty years, was killed to-day by falling from the roof of a house on North St. at work in Lake street in this village.

LIT HIS OWN FUNERAL PYRE.

Belief that Edge Fired His Factory to End His Sorrows.

LITTLE FALLS, N. J., Sept. 20.—James Edge's factory on the Little Falls turnpike was totally destroyed by fire at midnight, and the proprietor was burned to death.

What caused the fire and what Mr. Edge was doing in the factory at such an unbecomingly late hour is not explained.

Mr. Edge had been very despondent since Sunday, but when he buried his wife, who was fifty-five years of age and lived with his family in a neat dwelling near the factory, he was unusually bright. Light in the factory and as he walked toward the building flames burst from the windows.

During the excitement Mr. Edge's daughter ran about the premises writhing her hands and crying and exclaiming that she feared her father had been burned in the factory. It is a question whether Edge met his terrible fate by accident, or whether he set fire to the building for the purpose of destroying himself.

It is said that one of Edge's workmen also lost his life, but this is not known to be a fact.

The factory was a three-story frame structure, and when it burned it consumed the hands. The loss is estimated at $75,000, partly insured.

CROTON WATER NOW PURE.
Some of the Sources of Contamination Have Been Removed.

Chemists Martin and Beebe submitted to the Health Department to-day an analysis of Croton water.

For some time the weekly analysis has shown traces of contamination, indicated by the presence of nitrates. Last week's analysis showed the amount of nitrates in the water to be 0.0005, the result being expressed in parts per 100,000.

Public Works Commissioner Gilroy ordered steps to be taken to remove certain nuisances which were alleged to exist in the Croton watershed and caused the impurities in the water.

The report of Chemists Martin and Beebe before the Health Board to-day is the result of an analysis of samples of Croton water taken from hydrants in the city last week.

The analysis showed that the water was pure and free from contamination.

MAJOR-GEN. ULLMANN DEAD.
First to Organize Colored Troops and Run for Governor.

NEWARK, Sept. 20.—Daniel Ullmann, who was the first to organize colored troops in the war of the rebellion, and took the first colored brigade south, died here this morning of old age.

Gen. Ullmann was born in Wilmington, Del. April 18, 1812. He was descended from several generations of bankers in Strasbourg, Alsace; was one of the founders of the Union City of New York. In 1848 he was the candidate of the American party for governor of New York.

He was a civil war, and retired with the rank of Major-General.

HER MANIA WAS LOVE.
Unrequited Affection Probably Drove Rosa Fischer to Suicide.

The relatives of Rosa Fischer, whose body was found yesterday in Mason's Pond, near South Orange, say that the girl was a victim of unrequited love. During the past year she had frequently spoken of suicide.

She fell in love with a young man who worked for a West Orange butcher in whose family she lived and told all her friends that she had promised to marry him. He denied having made such a promise, and when the girl refused to believe him, she became convinced that he had deceived her.

It is said that the girl's mind was deranged, and that she was unable to control the influence of her strange hallucination.

The body of the young woman was removed from the pond and buried in the local cemetery. Rosa had been missing from her sister's house since Monday, Sept. 12. It is believed that she drowned herself on that day.

ADA REHAN IN SILVER.
She Will Possess the Montana
Statue of Justice.

Miss Ada Rehan is going to pose for Sculptor R. H. Park as a model for the silver statue of Justice, which will be one of Montana's exhibits at the Columbian Exposition.

The statue is to be 8 feet high, of solid silver, worth $50,000, mounted upon a pedestal of solid gold valued at $250,000, the largest lump of gold ever used.

The figure will represent a Justice standing upon a globe, with one foot advanced resting on the American Constitution. The figure will hold a scale equally balanced with gold and silver coin, and in the extended right hand will be a drawn sword.

JUDGE WERTS ACCEPTS.
Democrats of New Jersey Reject
Over the Decision.

New Jersey Democrats are rejecting to-day over the authoritative announcement from Trenton that Judge George T. Werts, of Jersey City, whom they nominated for governor almost unanimously during his declaration of independence, had been prevailed upon to accept the nomination.

This situation was brought about in a four-hour session last night between Judge Werts, Senator McPherson and Edward F. C. Connelley, who were present.

Mr. Young joined Senator McPherson in urging the Judge to accept.

Miller Rescued from Drowning.
Thomas Miller, of 240 East Seventy-ninth street, fell overboard at the foot of East Twenty-third street early this morning. He was rescued by a life-guard, and taken to the hospital, where it was found that his left arm was broken.

Miss Bessey's Prize Design.
The winner of the $50 prize for the best design for a National Lodge for the Board of Lady Managers of the World's Columbian
Exposition is Martha L. Bessey, of 440 East Eighty-third street, New York. The competition was closed to-day. Miss Bessey was born in New York and is a graduate from our public schools.

One Boy Stabs Another.
Nathan Olinick, aged fifteen, of 74 Fourth street, was brought to trial in the County Court this morning charged with police assault. He and Abraham Levy, aged fourteen, of 16 Rutgers street, had a quarrel last night and Olinick stabbed Levy in the arm.

Getting Ready for Election.
The clerks in the Bureau of Elections are hard at work getting ready for the coming election. The first day of registry is Tuesday, Oct. 11. The other days are: Wednesday, Oct. 12; Friday, Oct. 13, and Saturday, Oct. 14. Election day, as everybody knows, is Tuesday, Nov. 8.

SEARCH FOR A PIECE OF ROPE.

All that Is Needed to Remove
All Doubt of Tarr's Suicide.

The Dead Coachman's Sons Can Throw No Light on the Case.

The family of Samuel Tarr, whose body was found in the surf at Giffords, Staten Island, Sunday afternoon, now believe that he committed suicide.

With the object of dispelling all doubt, Samuel Tarr, Jr., said this morning that he would institute a search in George E. Dodge's stable, at 123 West Fifty-sixth street, for a rope corresponding to that which bound his father's wrists.

He should find a piece of manila yarn, said young Tarr, "I shall at once conclude, and so we shall, that rather did commit suicide. If there is any rope of that kind in the stable it will prove to our satisfaction that father cut a piece of it off and started away with the premeditated idea of self-destruction."

The body will this afternoon be delivered by Coroner Hughes to Undertaker H. H. Jackson, of 12 West Eleventh street, for burial.

The funeral will be held at 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning, at the church of the Ascension, Fifth Avenue and Tenth street.

Coroner Hughes has set the inquest for to-morrow afternoon, but Samuel Tarr, Jr., says that he knows of nothing that would shed any light upon the manner of his father's death.

Mr. Joseph L. Feeney, of Stapleton, who purchased the body of Tarr, said that death was due to asphyxiation from drowning, and that there was no mark of violence on the body.

WANT MORE STREETS.
The East and West Railway Company Amends Its Application.

At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen this afternoon Alderman Brown withdrew the petition for a new street, and the company asking for a franchise for Harlem streets and substituted an amended petition for a franchise.

The petition asks for the following route: From Second avenue through One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street to St. Nicholas avenue, thence south to One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, thence west along One Hundred and Twenty-sixth, Lawrence and West Fifty-ninth street, thence north to Fort Lee ferry at One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street, thence north to Hudson River.

Also from One Hundred and Fifty-ninth street up Fifth avenue to One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street, thence north to Hudson River.

Also from St. Nicholas avenue and One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street, north to Hudson River.

The first route is the same as the old one, with a spur to Fort Lee ferry added. The second route is a new one, and was proposed by the Railroad Commission.

LEAPED FOR THEIR LIVES.
Two Alarms from Augustin's Restaurant, on Crosby Street.

Fire was discovered in the basement of the five-story brick building at Crosby street at 10:30 this morning. The building extends through to Broadway and is in the middle of a most important business part of the city.

Two alarms were therefore sent in, but the fire was extinguished without much difficulty.

The building is occupied, except the ground floor, by the paper-box factory of H. Lieberknecht & Co.

On the ground floor is the restaurant of Louis Augustin. The fire seems to have started in the basement, but did no damage except to the restaurant.

When the fire appeared there Mrs. Augustin and two waitresses—Miss Barbary and Katie Schmitt—were in the restaurant. The damage to the restaurant, Augustin claims, is $2,500.

KILLED IN THE RACE WAR.
Nine Negroes and Two White Slain in Arkansas.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Sept. 20.—A conductor on the Cotton Belt railway says that it is reported at Thornton, a station twenty miles distant from where the Coliseum County race track occurred, that nine negroes and two white men were killed and several wounded to-day.

A people's party white was at the head of the negroes. It seems that trouble has been brewing ever since the election.

Further particulars are not obtainable, as there is no telegraph in connection with the seat of war.

ROBBED ON A STEAMBOAT.
Two Miners Meet a Pleasant Man and Lose a Watch.

Hugh McGarry, of Butte, Mont., and his brother John, of Leadville, Col., both miners, attended the funeral of their mother in Providence, R. I., and last night took the South steamer Massachusetts to return.

On the boat they met a genial stranger, who drank with them and accompanied them to their room, where they soon fell asleep.

When Hugh awoke he found that his gold watch and about $40 in cash had been taken from his pockets.

He charged the stranger with the robbery and had him arrested. He gave his name as Robert Houghton and his residence as 1450 Lexington avenue, New York. He said that he would get the watch.

Justice McMahon, in the Tombs Court, remanded him for a hearing this afternoon.

Joseph Held for Criminal Assault.
Fredrich Loesch, a married man, living at 87 Avenue D, was held for trial to-day, in the Tombs Court, charged with criminally assaulting Marge Schlattner, fifteen years old, of 15 Grand street, and that day was committed to the care of the Gerry society.

driven by Vernon A. Sandford, of 124
Tompkins avenue.

Two Boys Steal a Horse.
Compton, two years old, was arrested this morning, charged with stealing a horse from Frederick Foreman, of 20 Wyckoff avenue.
The boys were trying to sell the horse for $5
when they were arrested.

IRISH TENANTS WILL RESIST.

Much Excitement Over the Resumption of Eviction Processes.

DUBLIN, Sept. 20.—There is renewed excitement everywhere in Dublin in consequence of the resumption of the eviction of destitute tenants.

In two cases in County Clare the danger of being put out into the roads with all their belongings has induced the tenants today their rent.

Many of the tenants on the estate of Lord Fitzgibbon, who are in possession of County Wicklow, and on the estates of Lord Templemore, in County Wicklow, are greatly in arrears and preparations are being made for evictions on a wholesale scale.

The tenants are preparing to resist the evictions.

On Saturday a family named O'Gorman, living in one of the West of Ireland counties, was evicted from their holding. Bridget O'Gorman, a daughter, had in her possession a ticket for the United States, which had been sent her by her sister in America.

This was seized by the sheriff, who held it as security for the law costs incurred by the landlord.

ENGLAND'S STATE OF TRADE.
Poor at Present with No Prospect of Speedy Betterment.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—At the annual meeting of the chambers of commerce today at Newport St. Albert Kaye Rollit, President of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the United Kingdom, said that he was not able to congratulate the country upon trade prospects.

The coal, iron and steel trades were dull, while the textile industries were harassed by tariff and perplexed by economic, monetary and labor problems.

The official returns, Sir Albert added, showed that there was little likelihood of betterment in the present conditions.

The volume of England's trade was declining, though the value of her exports during the year had increased $25,000,000, against the corresponding eight months of 1891. This was caused by the great accession of food stuffs and a slight increase in manufactured goods. The exports for the same period had decreased 9 per cent. in volume.

Held for the Murder of His Mistress and Her Child.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The preliminary examination of Andrew MacLach, who is charged with the murder of his mistress, Annie Pritchard, and her illegitimate child, was held to-day.

The magistrate committed the prisoner for trial on the charge of wilful murder.

The mutilated body of the Pritchard woman was found in a ditch by the side of the main road leading from Northampton to Rugby. MacLach is a married man.

Emperor William to Visit Vienna and Hunt in Styria.

BERLIN, Sept. 20.—According to plans now fixed for the Emperor's future movements, His Majesty will pay a visit to Emperor Francis Joseph at Vienna during the early part of October.

After his return to Berlin, Emperor Francis Joseph and the King of Saxony will go on a hunting expedition in Styria.

Regent Emma.
This House, Sept. 20.—The Straits General was opened to-day by Queen Regent Emma in person.

ALMOST CHOKED BY SMOKE.
A Family's Narrow Escape at an Attorney's Street Fire.

A few minutes before 2 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in Miller & Chessler's furniture factory, in the rear of 101, 103 and 105 Attorney street. The front houses are all tenements.

The fire started among a lot of excelsior in the basement of 101, and in a little while the thick smoke penetrated to the front tenements, causing much alarm.

The rooms of Max Newman, who keeps a saloon on the ground floor of 101, and lives over the saloon, were almost choked with smoke.

Roundsman Cully aroused him and got the family out, and almost choked them.

The flames were confined to the basement of the factory and only $500 damage was done.

CATHOLIC CLERGY CONFER.
Three Days Devoted to the Priests of the Diocese.

A conference of one-hundred of the Catholic clergy of this diocese was held to-day at St. Michael's church, Ninth avenue and Thirty-first street.

Archbishop Corrigan presided and Rev. Nicholas Russo acted as moderator. Rev. Matthew Taylor, Rev. Thomas M. O'Keefe and Rev. Patrick Donaghy read papers.

To-morrow a conference of another third of the Catholic clergy will be held at St. Patrick's church, on Mulberry, near Houston.

Let it be said that the clergy will hold a conference at the Cathedral, Fifth street and 14th avenue.

Free-for-All Fight in Brooklyn.
Three men engaged in a free fight on Columbia street, Brooklyn, early this morning. Joseph Walsh, of 22 Columbia street, struck James Walsh, of 40 Columbia street, with a brick and fractured his skull. John Konan, of 60 Baltic street, assaulted an Italian and Pasquale Cigile was drunk.
They were taken to the Ninth street police station.
